2026 MEPRA AWARDS
ENTRY GUIDELINES & PROCESS

ELIGIBILITY & SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The Middle East Public Relations Association (MEPRA) Awards are open to public relations consultancies, freelancers, in-house teams, digital agencies, media owners, students, and academics. Submissions are accepted from organisations headquartered in or actively operating within the Middle East region.

Entries may be submitted either directly by the organisation or on behalf of another party; however, it is the entrant's responsibility to secure all necessary permissions for the use of any brand, client intellectual property, or third-party materials.

Freelancers may submit work they have delivered; however, they must ensure they have obtained all necessary permissions from clients to do so.

For team-based categories, financial information must reflect the organisation's most recent full financial year.

SECTOR ELIGIBILITY

Campaigns may be entered into sector-specific categories even if the organisation's core business does not sit within that sector, provided that the campaign is clearly relevant to and designed for that sector.

ELIGIBILITY PERIOD

All entries must relate to work delivered between 1 May 2025 and 16 July 2026.

Entries submitted must not have been entered into previous MEPRA Awards. Any duplicate submissions will be disqualified and will not proceed to judging.

TAILORED ENTRIES & MULTIPLE CATEGORY SUBMISSIONS

Entrants may submit the same campaign to multiple categories, provided that each submission meets the following requirements:

Tailored Submissions

Entries must be tailored specifically to the chosen category. Submitting identical or copy-pasted content across multiple categories is strongly discouraged and may result in disqualification.

Category Relevance

The insights, strategy, channels, tactics, and results must clearly align with the discipline being judged (e.g. Social Media vs Integrated vs Influencer).

Supporting Evidence Alignment

Any supporting materials must reinforce the category-specific focus of the written submission.

Maximum Category Submissions

Each campaign may be entered in a maximum of eight (8) categories.

This approach ensures that judges can accurately evaluate work based on discipline-specific excellence.

SUBMISSION FORMAT & REQUIREMENTS

Word count (up to maximum 1,000 words per entry)

All campaign entries must be structured across the following sections:

- Identification of Issue & Objective Setting – up to maximum 150 words
- Research & Data – up to maximum 150 words
- Strategy & Planning – up to maximum 150 words
- Channels & Tactics – up to maximum 150 words
- Why Should This Campaign Win – up to maximum 200 words
- Results & Evaluation – up to maximum 200 words

All entries must be submitted directly through the awards platform using the designated fields and word limits for each section.

The platform enforces the maximum word count and will not allow submissions that exceed the specified limits.

Entrants should ensure responses are clear, concise, and well-structured. As judging is based primarily on the written submission, clarity of language and logical flow are essential for effective evaluation.

USE OF AI TOOLS

To ensure fairness, authenticity, and the integrity of the Awards, all entries must be the original work of the submitting organisation. The use of AI tools to generate or write entry submissions is not permitted.

Similarly, judges are required to assess entries independently and must not use AI tools to support or influence their evaluation. Any breach of this may result in disqualification.

SUPPORTING MATERIALS

Any supporting materials must reinforce the category-specific focus of the written entry submission. Supporting materials may be uploaded separately and are intended to provide additional context only.

- Upload supporting files (JPEG, PNG, PDF, or links), maximum 5MB per file
- Video content must be hosted on YouTube or Vimeo (password-protected links accepted with passwords provided)
- URLs must remain active throughout the judging period
- Ensure all links, logins, and passwords are accessible

SUBMISSION PLATFORM REQUIREMENTS

All entries must be submitted through the official 2026 MEPRA Awards Platform

Entrants must also provide:

- A maximum 40-word overview (for possible publication)
- A maximum 150-word summary (for possible publication)
- One high-resolution campaign image (for publication if shortlisted)
- Organisation and client logos in high-resolution vector/ai format

Please ensure that organisation names, client names, and campaign titles are accurate at submission. No amendments will be permitted after submission.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Entrants may mark specific sections of their submission as confidential. Confidential information will only be accessible to judges and will not be published.

A non-confidential summary must still be provided for use in announcements and marketing if shortlisted.

DISQUALIFICATION & QUALITY CONTROL

MEPRA reserves the right to disqualify entries that:

- Are not tailored to the selected category
- Contain identical or duplicate content across multiple submissions
- Do not meet eligibility or category requirements
- Contain false, misleading, or unverifiable information
- Fail to provide required permissions for use of client or third-party content

QUALITY ASSURANCE NOTE

All submissions will undergo an initial administrative and editorial review prior to judging to ensure compliance with category relevance and duplication guidelines. Entries identified as non-compliant may be disqualified before reaching the judging stage.

PERMISSIONS & RESPONSIBILITY

Entrants are solely responsible for securing written permission from clients to use their name or logo in any entry and associated online mentions. MEPRA disclaims all accountability for any legal disputes arising from the failure to obtain such permission.

MULTIPLE SUBMISSIONS & FEES

- You may submit multiple categories for the same campaign. A 50% discount applies to additional submissions of the same campaign.
- Entry fees may be paid by credit card, cheque, or bank transfer.
- Entries will not proceed to judging unless payment is received within five working days of the final closing date.

MEMBERSHIP RATE ELIGIBILITY FOR TEAMS CATEGORIES

To qualify for member rates within the Teams categories, organisations must hold a membership tier that corresponds with the category entered.

Example: If a Silver member agency enters the Large Agency of the Year category, it must upgrade its membership tier or pay the non-member entry fee.

For membership verification, contact: community@mepra.org

JUDGING BASIS, CONFIDENTIALITY & PUBLICATION

- Judging is based primarily on the written submission. Supporting materials are supplementary and will not compensate for weak or incomplete entries.
- Judges will evaluate entries based on strategic clarity, insight-led thinking, creative execution, and measurable impact aligned with the stated objectives.
- All judges sign confidentiality agreements.
- Judges recuse themselves from scoring entries from their own organisation or in cases of conflict of interest.
- To be shortlisted, campaigns must achieve a minimum score of 70% based on the defined criteria. Only the ten highest-scoring campaigns will be selected for the shortlist.
- An independent adjudicator(s) oversees fairness.
- The organisers may publish the summaries of winning and shortlisted submissions. Sensitive content (e.g., budget figures) should be marked “not for publication”.

FORCE MAJEURE AND CONTINGENCY

MEPRA reserves the right to amend timelines, processes, and event delivery where circumstances beyond its reasonable control arise. This includes, but is not limited to, regional instability, conflict, government restrictions, public health considerations, or any other force majeure event.

In such circumstances, MEPRA may, at its sole discretion:

- Adjust entry deadlines, judging timelines, or interview schedules
- Modify the format of the judging process or Awards ceremony (including virtual or hybrid delivery)
- Postpone or reschedule key milestones or the Awards ceremony

Any such changes will be communicated to entrants, judges, and partners in a timely manner. MEPRA will take all reasonable steps to ensure the integrity and fairness of the Awards process is maintained.

BEST USE OF LIMITED BUDGET – NON-PROFIT/PRO-BONO CAMPAIGN

This category recognises outstanding communications campaigns delivered by organisations, brands, nonprofits, or as part of pro bono initiatives that have achieved meaningful impact despite limited financial resources. Entries should demonstrate creativity, innovation, strategic thinking, and measurable outcomes achieved through effective use of a modest budget.

Entries must demonstrate delivery within a defined budget threshold of AED 80,000 or less (excluding retainers, agency fees, and project management costs), with a clear breakdown of what is included and over which period of time.

Eligible campaigns may include:

- NGO awareness or behaviour change campaigns
- Community engagement or social impact initiatives
- Pro-bono campaigns delivered by agencies or partners
- Advocacy, fundraising, or participation programmes
- Low-budget digital, media, or experiential initiatives

Judges will look for:

- Clear articulation of the challenge and budget constraints
- Insight-led strategy and defined objectives
- Creative and resourceful use of earned media, low-cost channels, or partnerships to maximise results
- Effective audience engagement and message delivery
- Demonstrable impact on awareness, participation, donations, behaviour change, or community outcomes
- Strong evaluation aligned with campaign goals

BEST USE OF MEDIA RELATIONS – B2B

This category recognises outstanding business-to-business media relations campaigns that effectively engage trade, industry, or specialist media to build thought leadership, influence professional audiences, or strengthen organisational reputation.

Campaigns where the primary objective is media engagement should be entered here. Media-only events may be entered in Media Relations or Best Media Engagement Event, depending on whether the outcome focus is coverage or event experience.

Eligible campaigns may include:

- Trade or industry media engagement programmes
- Executive profiling or thought leadership media initiatives
- Technical announcements or sector positioning campaigns
- Business press conferences, media briefings, or roundtables
- Trade media press trips, site visits, or immersion experiences
- Multi-channel earned-media storytelling targeting professional audiences

Judges will look for:

- Clear understanding of industry media landscape and stakeholder dynamics
- Insight-led media strategy and defined objectives
- Strong narrative supported by data, expertise, or market relevance
- Quality engagement with journalists through interviews, briefings, or events
- Credible, high-value earned media coverage (quality over quantity)
- Demonstrable impact on share of voice, industry perception, reputation, or stakeholder influence
- Clear evaluation aligned with campaign goals

BEST USE OF MEDIA RELATIONS – B2C

This category recognises outstanding consumer-focused media relations campaigns that successfully engage journalists, broadcasters, and media platforms to shape public conversation, enhance brand reputation, or drive consumer awareness.

Campaigns where the primary objective is media engagement should be entered here. Media-only events may be entered in Media Relations or Best Media Engagement Event, depending on whether the outcome focus is coverage or event experience.

Eligible campaigns may include:

- Consumer media engagement programmes
- Media launch campaigns or announcement strategies
- Press briefings, editorial roundtables, or interview programmes
- Press trips, journalist experiences, or media previews
- Earned media storytelling or brand positioning initiatives
- Integrated earned-first campaigns targeting public audiences

Judges will look for:

- Clear understanding of consumer media dynamics and audience behaviour
- Insight-led media strategy and defined objectives
- Strong narrative development and message clarity
- Effective relationship-building and journalist engagement
- Quality, relevance, and credibility of earned media coverage
- Demonstrable impact on earned-media coverage, awareness, sentiment, reach, perception, or consumer behaviour
- Clear evaluation aligned with campaign goals

BEST USE OF SOCIAL MEDIA

This category recognises outstanding communications campaigns that strategically and creatively leverage social media platforms to drive awareness, engagement, or action.

Campaigns should show that social media was the primary driver of results. Influencer-led campaigns should be entered into Best Influencer Campaign.

PEOPLE & TEAMS CATEGORIES

OUTSTANDING STUDENT CAMPAIGN

This category recognises the most innovative, well-crafted, and strategically effective communications campaign executed or developed by a student or student team. It celebrates creativity, insight, and a strong application of communications principles within an academic or student-led context. Entries should clearly demonstrate a structured and strategic approach to solving a defined communications challenge, with a clear link between insight, strategy, execution, and evaluation. Campaigns may be real-world projects, university assignments, or competition-based submissions.

Evaluation Criteria

Identification of Issue & Objective Setting (15%) – up to 150 words

- Was the issue or challenge clearly defined from both a business and communications perspective?
- Were the objectives relevant, well-defined, and aligned with addressing the identified challenge?
- Did the entry outline measurable communication objectives and explain how the strategy would effectively solve the issue?

Research & Data (15%) – up to 150 words

- How was research used to inform the strategy and objectives?
- Did the team clearly demonstrate how insights shaped their decisions?
- Was a range of data sources considered to develop a well-rounded and informed approach?

Strategy & Planning (25%) – up to 250 words

- Was a clear, logical, and well-justified strategy presented?
- Did the strategic rationale directly connect to the identified issue?
- Was the tactical plan realistic, innovative, and appropriately structured to support the strategy?
- Did the planning demonstrate a strong understanding of communication principles?

Channels & Tactics (25%) – up to 250 words

- How well did the chosen channels and tactics align with the target audience and campaign objectives?
- Did the entry show how insights guided channel and tactic selection?
- Were the tactics creative, innovative, and well-suited to a student-led campaign?
- Was the proposed execution practical, feasible, and clearly articulated?
- What made the approach distinctive or compelling?

Results & Evaluation (20%) – up to 200 words

- Did the submission clearly outline how success would be measured?
- Were outputs, outcomes, KPIs, or indicators of success (traditional, digital, or social) clearly defined?
- Did the campaign demonstrate actual impact (if executed) or strong potential real-world impact (if proposed)?
- Was evaluation tied back to the original objectives?

THE DAVE ROBINSON AWARD FOR OUTSTANDING YOUNG COMMUNICATOR OF THE YEAR (IN-HOUSE OR AGENCY)

This category recognises an exceptional communications professional aged 29 or under who has demonstrated outstanding talent, capability, leadership potential, and impact in the Middle East communications industry. Eligibility is limited to individuals who are 29 years old or younger on the date of the Awards ceremony. Any entrant who has reached or will reach the age of 30 by the ceremony date will not qualify.

Finalists will be invited to a second round of judging, consisting of an in-person interview with a panel of senior industry leaders.

Career Experience

The entry should primarily highlight achievements from the past 12 months. Entrants may include a brief reference to their overall professional experience. This background context is welcome and will not affect eligibility; however, it must not become the main focus of the submission. Judges will assess the nominee's recent impact, potential, and contribution to the industry.

Evaluation Criteria

Professional Performance (25%) – up to 250 words

- Has the nominee delivered high-quality work, projects, or campaigns that demonstrate skill and reliability?
- Do they show a strong grasp of industry standards, tools, practices, and emerging trends?
- Have they demonstrated creativity or innovation, such as new approaches, bold ideas, or effective use of technology?
- How have they responded to challenges, taken initiative, or shown resilience in achieving meaningful outcomes?

Stakeholder & Relationship Management (25%) – up to 250 words

- How effectively has the nominee built strong relationships with colleagues, clients, partners, media, or stakeholders?
- Is there evidence of professionalism, trust, and positive feedback from those they work with?
- How well do they collaborate, communicate, and navigate processes in agency or in-house environments?

Team Contribution & Growth (25%) – up to 250 words

- How has the nominee contributed to team culture, collaboration, or knowledge-sharing?
- What feedback have managers provided regarding growth, strengths, and development?
- Have they shown commitment to continuous learning, upskilling, and professional development?
- Do they demonstrate early leadership qualities (formal or informal)?

Overall Impact & Industry Engagement (25%) – up to 250 words

- How has the nominee contributed beyond their core role to advance their organisation or the wider industry?
- Have they been involved in CSR, volunteering, university outreach, thought leadership, DEI/ESG initiatives, or community engagement?
- Do they demonstrate passion for the communications profession and commitment to excellence?

BEST COMMUNICATOR OF THE YEAR

This category recognises an outstanding communications professional who has demonstrated exceptional leadership, strategic excellence, creativity, integrity, and impact over the past year.

It is open to senior agency professionals, in-house practitioners, and independent consultants or freelancers who have made a significant contribution to the communications field in the Middle East.

Eligibility Requirement

This category is intended to recognise highly experienced professionals who have demonstrated sustained excellence and continue to deliver significant impact at a senior level. Entrants must have a minimum of 20 years of professional experience in communications, public relations, or a related discipline.

Career Experience

The entry should primarily highlight achievements from the past 12 months. Entrants may include a brief reference to their overall career to provide context; however, this must not become the main focus of the submission.

Judges will assess the nominee's recent impact, leadership, and contribution to the industry, rather than tenure or job title.

Entrants should demonstrate:

- Excellence in communication strategy and execution
- Consistent delivery of high-quality work and measurable results
- Leadership, influence, and collaboration
- Commitment to professional development and industry standards
- Contribution to organisational, client, or community impact

- Is there evidence of DEI, ESG, or community-driven initiatives?

People, Culture & Talent Development (20%) – up to 200 words

- How does the agency support employee well-being, mental health, and inclusive culture?
- Is there evidence of retention, low turnover, or strong employee satisfaction?
- What is the quality of their training programmes, mentorship, performance management, and leadership development?
- Does the agency have policies in place that support growth and inclusivity (flexible work, maternity/paternity support, development pathways)?
- Do they involve employees in CSR?
- Have they been recognised for workplace culture (local or international awards, if applicable)?

Evaluation Criteria Continued...

Client Satisfaction & Retention (20%) – up to 200 words

- Evidence of long-term relationships and client trust
- Testimonials, feedback, and measurable satisfaction indicators
- Client retention and turnover rates over the past year
- Ability to maintain strong performance across multiple accounts

New Business, Growth & Innovation (25%) – up to 250 words

- Percentage of revenue growth in the past year
- Notable new business wins and how they were secured
- Examples of innovation: new services, expanded markets, or creative offerings
- Demonstrated ability to scale sustainably and strategically

Creative Excellence & Case Study Impact (20%) – up to 200 words

Provide at least one case study demonstrating excellence, including:

- Brief: Challenge or opportunity
- Objectives: Strategic and measurable goals
- Strategy: Insight-driven thinking and rationale
- Tactics: Execution and creative approach
- Outputs & Outcomes: Quantitative and qualitative results (ROI, reach, behaviour change, reputation impact)
- Budget: Resource allocation and efficiency

Case studies should clearly demonstrate how the agency delivers outstanding results, creativity, and client value.

INDEPENDENT AGENCY OF THE YEAR

This category recognises the most outstanding independent communications agency operating in the Middle East. It celebrates agencies that demonstrate strong business performance, strategic excellence, client impact, talent development, innovation, and meaningful contribution to the regional communications industry.

Agencies must be independently owned and not partially or fully owned by international networks or holding groups headquartered outside the Middle East.

Entries should clearly describe the agency's performance, positioning, and impact over the past 12 months, supported by measurable results and evidence across business, people, clients, and industry contribution.

SMALL AGENCY OF THE YEAR

This category recognises the most exceptional small communications agency operating in the Middle East with 1-25 full-time employees, including seconded employees and excluding freelancers.

Entries should clearly demonstrate the agency's performance, growth, and impact over the past 12 months, highlighting agility, creativity, and the ability to deliver strong results with a lean structure.

MEDIUM AGENCY OF THE YEAR

This category recognises the most exceptional medium-sized communications agency operating in the Middle East with 26-50 full-time employees, including seconded employees and excluding freelancers.

Entries should clearly demonstrate the agency's performance, scalability, and consistency over the past 12 months, including client impact, operational maturity, and sustained business growth.

LARGE AGENCY OF THE YEAR

This category recognises the most exceptional large communications agency operating in the Middle East with 51 or more full-time employees, including seconded employees and excluding freelancers.

Entries should clearly demonstrate the agency's performance, leadership, and market impact over the past 12 months, including business growth, large-scale delivery, and organisational excellence.

NETWORK AGENCY OF THE YEAR

This category recognises the most outstanding regional communications agency network with 51 or more full-time employees, including seconded employees and excluding freelancers operating across multiple Middle East markets.

To be eligible, agencies must have a minimum of two (2) physical offices in the region and demonstrate integrated operations across markets.

Agencies that are part of global communications networks or international holding groups are eligible; however, entries must focus specifically on Middle East regional performance.

Entries should clearly demonstrate the network's regional performance and collaboration over the past 12 months, including cross-market delivery, integrated capabilities, and consistent quality across offices.
